ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Ask The Author #12

Hi everyone!
I'm alive after these 2 weeks!

That's because...

...my work project was posponed.

MamaHen

Hey Bonnie! I'm just wondering... what do you think is the purpose of dreams? What is it's meaning?...i mean, there are bad dreams and good dreams but what's it supposed to be? tell us what you think! and also i really love RSJ! Thanks for making this comic exist! We ❤ You! 😊😊😊

Coincidentally, there's a page talking about dreams on the newspaper today.

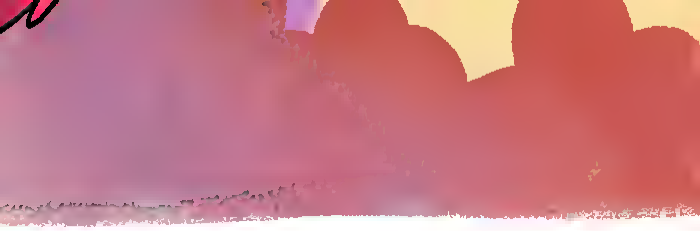
Scientists said dreams are created when our brains try to sort out our memories.

I think dreams reflect our subconscious thoughts such as wants and fears.

The things we experience in daytime can also turn into dream ingredients.

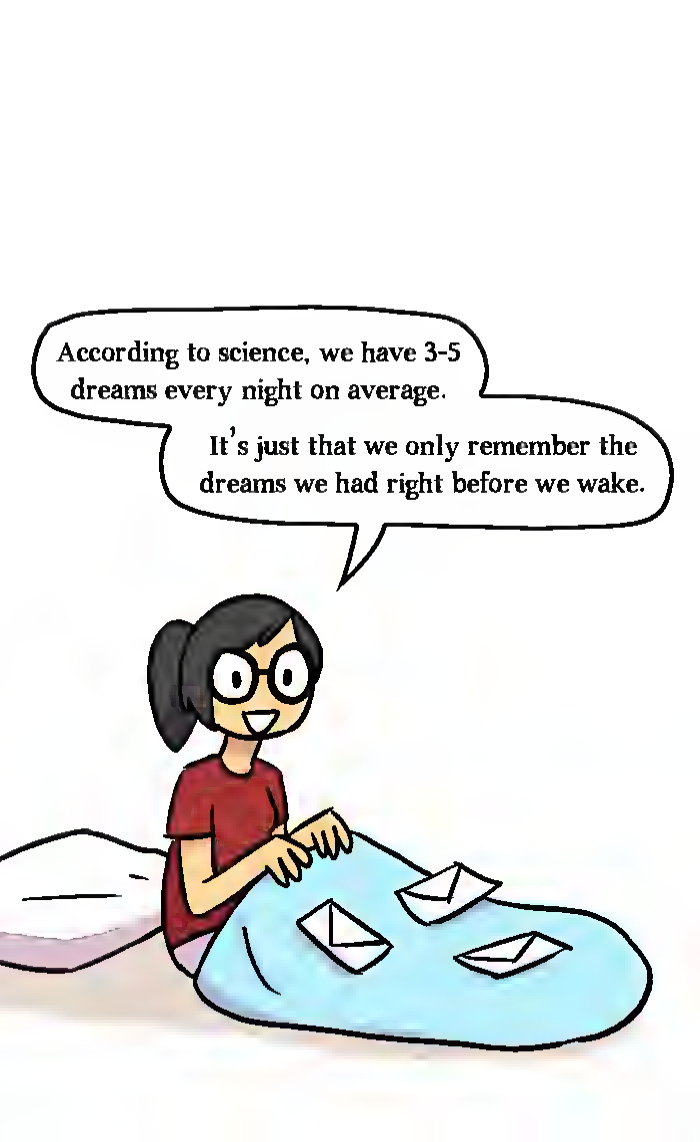
Don't have much time left to draw RSJ...
I missed the deadline!!!

In my opinion, the purpose of dreams to let us imagine and expereince the impossible!



Geek of the Century

Is it normal to not have/remember your dreams all the time? Thank you and hopefully we'll see more RSJ verse in the future love you ❤



According to science, we have 3-5 dreams every night on average.
It's just that we only remember the dreams we had right before we wake.

I also have a dream memory capacity of a goldfish.

It's normal to not remember you dreams.

Qulan "King Crazzzz...

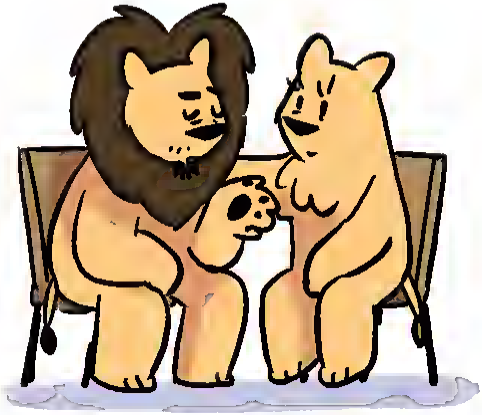
Dear Bonnie, how do I stop the constant vivid and reoccurring dream of my father's passing from happening? I really need an answer.

If your father has passed, maybe you still have lots of emotions about your father or the incident.

Guilty of my dad's passing

I should have been a better son

I should have prevented the accident
Maybe it's a good time to have a look at your emotions.



If your father is alive,
maybe you have some fears about losing him.

I still need your financial support dad!

Either way, I hope your dream leads you to solve this puzzle.

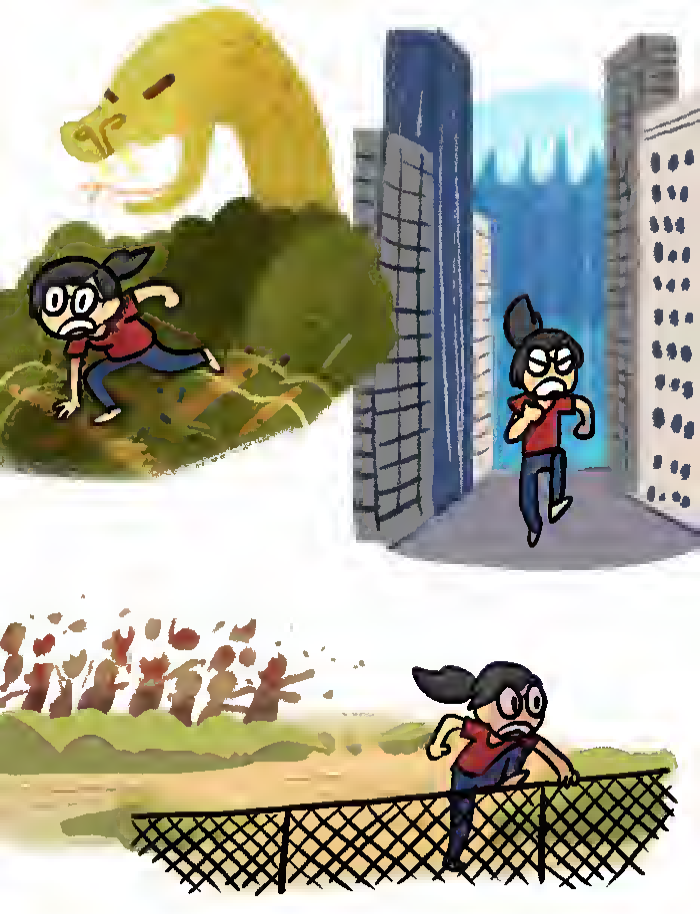
Bonnie Sensei. I barely am able to remember my dreams. However, the dreams I can remember most vividly. are always the dreams that mean something to me. There's a reason I can remember only the few. And then. I get to piece together the meaning. Bonnie. Do you ever get nightmares? What about?

My nightmares always fall into these two categories.

I lose my teeth (in all kinds of ways)



I'm running for life from something

Monica Ong

Umm,, Bonnie, do you believe in astral projection and lucid dream? I'm sorry for asking such a weird question... thank you, i love you

Astral projection

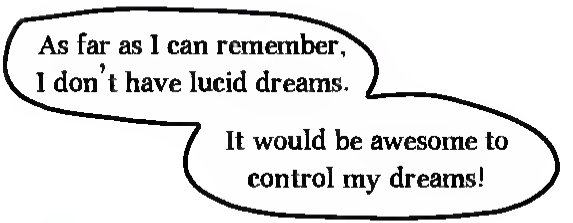
Out-of-body experience, your spirit is separated from your physical body

I've never had such an experience before,

but from cases of near-death patients experiencing astral projection, I believe it exists.

Lucid Dreaming

A dream which the dreamer is aware of dreaming and may have control over the dream.



The human brain is amazing.
it's possible that we can alter our dreams.

If the RSJ animals could do lucid dreaming what would they do in their dreams? Thank you for all the heartwarming comics you are doing a great job👍

Leo would dream a perfect life with great food and great love

You ate less junk food. I'm impressed

I had plenty in my dreams!

Cheetah-B would swim underwater and explore all kinds of things

Foxy would live with siblings and parents

Mr. Elephunk would fly

Giraffiel would try dating guys

OMGOMGOMG

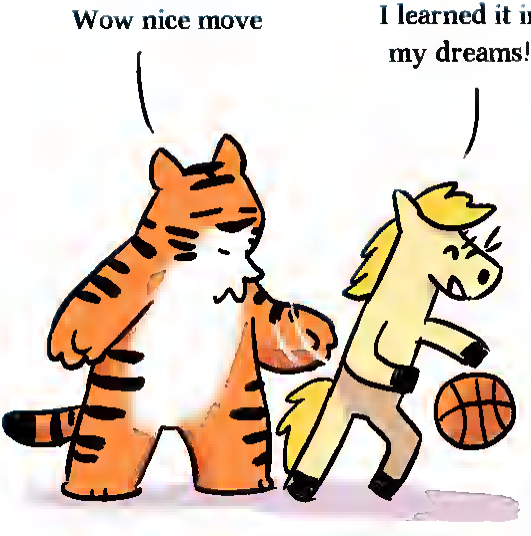
It's okay it's only a dream...

Mr. Pigkles would turn his stressful work dreams into a table of delicious food

Tiffany would be the protagonist in fairytale stories

Allie wouldn't know what to do with the dream and just go with the flow

Horsie would learn to play all kind of sports



Wow nice move
I learned it in my dreams!

Doglas would explore his dreams
and investigate all their possibilites

Anntelope would spend family time with Anton and Anna

It's a dream but
I'm happy enough...

Tiager would become a famous DJ
and be admired by many animals

Tortis would shed his heavy shell in his dreams

Po would switch on the snow and wonder around the arctic

That's it for this episode!

Thanks everyone for sharing your interesting dreams!
